

Dear Brothers and Sisters,

PSAC North is Canada's largest union North of 60, representing more than 16,000 members in the Yukon, Northwest Territories and Nunavut. We span a landmass equal to all western provinces put together, plus Ontario. Our members live in larger urban centers as well as small, isolated communities without road access. Our headquarters is in Yellowknife, Northwest Territories, with regional offices in Whitehorse and Iqaluit.

Our members work for a variety of employers, including federal, territorial and municipal governments, non-profit organizations and the private sector. We support members to achieve better pay, safe working conditions, employment security, fair treatment and respect in the workplace.

Committees are an important part of our structure. PSAC North Regional Committees help to guide our union and protect the interests of our members. Many of today's leaders developed their skills, abilities and talents on a committee.

The Racially Visible Committee promotes union action on issues affecting racially visible members by empowering, educating and mobilizing racially visible members to take action and move the Human Rights Agenda forward. The Committee also encourages networking and open communication among racially visible members, the PSAC National Human Rights Committee and other PSAC National/Regional bodies. It also helps members understand and strengthen the links between themselves, the union, the workplace and the community.

If you are interested in learning more about the PSAC Nunavut Racially Visible Committee, please see the contact information below.

In Solidarity,

Anika McLean
Chair, Nunavut Racially Visible Committee
nunavutrv@gmail.com